There's a place for everyone in San Francisco, no matter if you're local or just in town for a visit. This is a city of unique neighborhoods (even “micro-hoods”) and colorful contrasts. We're home to innovators and athletes, bohemians and foodies, activists, do-gooders, and a fog so famous it has a name (hello, Karl). You're always free to be yourself and you'll never be bored. Whether you're into local produce or burritos, graffiti or go-go dancing, getting lost on a hike or amongst the shelves in an old Beat hangout, feeling like a local here takes nothing more than an open mind and a healthy dose of curiosity.

Airbnb reached out to our eclectic San Francisco host community and compiled a list of their neighborhood favorites. Illustrated by Agnes Lee, The Local List will guide you through muraled alleys and reclusive vistas, from the Embarcadero to Land's End and back.

For even more ideas for things to do, visit sanfrancisco.travel or go to the Visitor Information Center at 900 Market Street.

San Francisco Hosts Know Best

“I love meeting new people and introducing them to the real SF neighborhoods, as well as helping bring revenue to support local businesses.”

David Miller
Airbnb host and small business owner, Braindrops

“Clarion Alley is the Mission’s 24-hour gallery. Local artists keep the walls freshly painted with murals ranging from pretty to political.”

Rebecca Wright
Airbnb host

“My favorite urban hiking spot is the Presidio—it’s a unique area with large-scale art, 25 miles of trails, and 250 years of military history.”

Alex Kenin
Airbnb Experience host and small business owner, Urban Hiker SF
